

Eric Morris

---

5657 Wilshire Blvd. • Los Angeles, CA, 90036

I write this with great pleasure. Many years ago a young man walked into my acting class, he had arrived from the East Coast. He was young, energetic and ready to pursue an acting career. My first impression was, well, he doesn't look like Robert Redford or Clark Gable, so in a business that worships beauty he is going to have a hard road ahead of him. Little did I know at the time how incredibly talented he was. His name is TONY RUSSELL and he is a natural! Over the years I have seen his work in a variety of creative areas. He is a talented comedian, a musician who plays the piano and other instruments as well as a singer whose sounds find their way into your soul. He acts with a depth that is surprising since he can be so funny in his comic work. Watching him perform is like watching Baryshnikov doing Swan Lake. His talent and his passion ignite the room he performs in. He is truly a one of a kind original.

Eric Morris

